CAMERAL STRIFE DISRUPTS GEN. ASSEMBLY

Washington—Not many people knew it, but when Justice Pierce Butler sided with the Supreme court minority in favor of the Jones and Laughlin Steel company in the Wagner act case last week, he was favoring one of his family's iron ore customers.

The Butler family made its millions in Minnesota by mining iron ore, and they have had a contract for some years with the Jones and Laughlin Steel company, although the latter produces much ore itself. One shipment of Butler ore is arriving this week at Ashtabula, O., for trans-shipment to the Jones and Laughlin plant.

The Butler ore mines are estimated to have made about $10,000,000 for the Butler brothers. Originally there were six brothers. A fair gauge of their wealth is the $11 of John Butler, who died in 1926. He left an estate of $2,731,733, of which $700,000 went to Justice Butler and his children.

Optional Ethics
Whether or not a justice of the Supreme court steps aside on a case in which he is personally interested depends entirely on him. Justice Stone stepped aside last year when his old firm represented the Sugar Institute, even though he had not been with the firm for many years. Justice Brandeis has stepped aside several times because his daughter was interested in child labor or minimum wage matters.

On the other hand, Justice Butler wrote the majority decision in the Great Northern Railway case, scaling $10,000,000 from its taxes, despite the fact that for years he was an attorney for that road. Also, Justice Roberts handed down the majority opinion in favor of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone company in 1933, ignoring his former position as a director of the Bell Telephone company, an affiliate.

Village Smithy Next
U. S. cavalry officers declare that one reason for mechanization of the army is the shortage of blacksmiths to care for horses.

Government University
Congressman Palmisano, ex-Baltimore bartender who happens to be chairman of the House education committee, is sitting on one of the most worthwhile educational projects in government.

It is a bill introduced by Congressman Disney of Oklahoma, to do for the civilian branches of the government what is done for the navy at Annapolis and for the army at West Point—a government-servant university.

Behind Disney's idea is the fact that it is the ambition of about half the youngsters of the country, at one time or another, to go to West Point or Annapolis. The two institutions are held up as the acme of educational training. The army and navy become models of clean and honorable avocations. There is competition to get there.

On the other hand, the civilian branches of government are considered by many to be graft-ridden and a none too honorable profession. The exact opposite is true in Great Britain, where many young men mould their careers to be British government servants.

"Politics," argues Disney, "can be the cleanest, most laudatory profession in the country. It all depends on the men in it. The first step is to train men. We've got to make the civilian ranks of government as attractive to youngsters as the army and navy. For this a government-servant university is essential."

Big Headache
Of all WPA's numerous headaches, none is more vexing than the question of relief to strikers—sit-down and otherwise.

The problem has plagued Harry Hopkins and his lieutenants ever since they set up business. On one hand are the embattled laborites clamoring for relief. On the other are the embattled employers raging against the use of public money to support their foes.

The fact that the union men have powerful administration ties, while the bosses usually are anti-New Dealers has not helped to simplify the issue.

Officially, the WPA does not "recognize" strikers. That is, it will not give them relief just because they are on strike. However, it does not differentiate between needs unemployed.

This means that while the WPA will not give a man aid because he is on strike nevertheless, if he and his family are in want, relief will not be withheld because he is engaged in an industrial fight. In practice, therefore, relief is extended to strikers under certain circumstances.

Auto Strike
WPA records reveal, however, that strike relief has been a negligible part of its vast expenditures. For example, during the recent auto strikes in Michigan, WPA rolls actually declined. On

MADRID TAKES ITS HEAVIEST BOMBARDMENT

Holland Inflamed At Execution Of Dutch Seamen

BULLETIN
Madrid, April 21.—(AP)—The tenth day of incessant insurgent shell-fire rolled up a total of 150 dead within Madrid today and forced a grave test of the city's fatalism under nearly a half year of siege.

Thirty-two bodies were hauled to morgues this evening, the grim harvest of today's insurgent cannonade from the besiegers' gun emplacements in the city's suburbs. At least 100 more were injured, a third of them gravely. The fatalities made the toll approximately 150 for the ten days of bombardment.

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Madrid took its hardest battering of the civil war today, the tenth successive day of heavy insurgent shelling.

At least 200 shells fell in the city before 10 A. M. (4 A. M. C. S. T.). Most of them were small, but there were tragic accounts of death and destruction. Yet the populace, hardened by 5½ months of siege, took the bombardment with a fatalistic shrug.

A report that Dutch officials aboard the Dutch steamer Andrea had been executed before insurgents sank the vessel in the Bay of Biscay April 6 stirred strong resentment in the Netherlands. Spanish government troops struck toward the Teruel-Zaragoza highway in eastern Spain after driving insurgents, panic-stricken, from the town of Celadas.

Hope To Cut Road
The government column's commanders hoped to sever the road and cut off the insurgents in Teruel from their comrades to the north.

On the Bay of Biscay coast, Gen. Emilio Mola's northern insurgent force began a new thrust at Bilbao, capital of the autonomous Basque provinces. Between them and the port was the government-held city of Durango.

Uncensored reports reaching the Franco-Spanish border indicated the Valencia government at last was getting the upper hand over troublesome anarchist elements.

In his own "capital," Salamanca, insurgent general Francisco Franco began organizing his proposed au-

State Police are After Motorists

State Highway Police Officers Edward Mahan and Rex Flach have opened a drive on all automobiles using 1936 license plates, drivers of which are to be arrested and fined. The order is state wide and becomes effective at once. During the past few days several arrests have been made and the offenders hailed into Justice J. O. Shaulis' speeder's court. Officer Mahan returned home yesterday from Indianapolis, Ind., where he attended the funeral of a relative and arrests made by Officer Flach over the week-end were as follows: Willard Schick, Dixon, failing to observe stop sign; George Dohison, Chicago, passing traffic on a hill; Demp, Madison, Wis., operating truck without Illinois license. All paid fines of $3 and costs.

86-Year-Old Chicago Woman Was Slain in Robbery; Suspects Held

New York, April 21.—(AP)—Stranglers today killed Mrs. Carmelia Carreras, 84-year-old widow, after gagging her in the bedroom of her four room apartment within a stone's throw of police headquarters.

Police who found the body said the motive for the killing was not immediately apparent.

Police said several pieces of furniture in the apartment were overturned. Both arms had been tied behind the widow's back, a gag thrust in her mouth, and marks on her throat indicated the manner in which she died.

The body of the woman, who had lived alone in the third floor apartment, was discovered by the police after relatives notified police headquarters they received no response to their ring.

86-Year-Old Chicago Woman Was Slain in Robbery; Suspects Held

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—Police today held three men who they said confessed committing a $3,000 apartment robbery in which an 86-year-old woman was bound, gagged and brutally beaten.

One, a mulatto, was identified by officers as Delmar Murphy, 27, a former chauffeur for Dr. Edgar W. Cross, an oculist whose apartment was looted and whose mother, Mrs. Louise Cross, was terrorized yesterday.

Detectives who arrested Murphy said he confessed his part in the robbery, and told how he went to see a circus soon afterward. Two white men known to police only as "Red" and "Alkins" were seized later. Officers said the loot was recovered. Dr. Cross and Miss Louise Powell, a maid in the Cross home, both identified Murphy.

NEW THREATS DEVELOP TO LABOR PEACE

Ocean Liner Tieup, Maine Shoe Firm Strike Begins

(By The Associated Press)
New threats to labor peace developed today despite assuring announcements from Tuesday's Washington conference of representatives of industry and workers.

In Maine shoe manufacturing centers, especially at Auburn, squads of state troopers were called in to reinforce guards alert to any outbreaks following the state supreme court's outlawing of a strike involving 19 factories.

A complete tie-up of all Cunard-White Star liners was ordered for North American ports by the International Longshoremen's union in a dispute over employment of non-members by the ship firm in Canada.

At Oshawa, Ont., Hugh Thompson, United Automobile Workers' organizer in charge of a strike of Canadian General Motors employees, charged Premier Hepburn was "considering to break" the walk-out and declared he did not expect scheduled settlement negotiations between a local union committee and company officials to take place.

A brief outbreak of violence attended attempts of workers to break through a picket line at a Rochester, N. Y., button plant. Pickets paraded in a heavy rain before the Bucyrus-Erie company plant at Milwaukee where iron, steel and tin workers went on strike for a wage increase.

Pledged to Perkins
Industrial executives and union leaders who participated in the labor relations conference called by Secretary Perkins were pledged today to observe collective bargaining contracts as "sacred and binding."

Although divergent views on a number of details precluded the drafting of formal conclusions, the Washington meeting yesterday was said to have been harmonious. Secretary Perkins said the conferees agreed that "labor's success in collective bargaining should be fitted into the pattern of success for industry."

Informed observers said a proposal to give employers protection under the Wagner act and to increase the legal responsibilities of labor unions was discussed at the conference and soon would be echoed openly by business groups.

Lewis, Green Present
Both of the rival labor chiefs—John L. Lewis of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and William Green of the American Federation of Labor—were present.

Lewis' C. I. O. was still an issue in the strike of 3,700 employees of General Motors at Oshawa, Ont. The corporation has refused to recognize the United Automobile Workers of America, a C. I. O. affiliate, as collective bargaining agent for its workers.

Negro "God" and One of His Devout Followers in Bad With "John Law"

Father Divine Is Ready To Give Himself Up

New York, April 21.—(AP)—A shiny-pated little Negro, known to thousands of his devout followers simply as "God," advised police through an attorney today he was ready to submit to arrest on a charge of felonious assault.

Within 24 hours Arthur A. Madison, Harlem lawyer, said, Father Divine, patron saint of a "Heaven" of his own creation and dozens of "extension Heavens," will surrender for questioning concerning the beating and stabbing administered Harry Green, a white contractor of Weehawken, N. J. yesterday.

The haven sought by the Negro, in whose name thousands of acres of upstate farm land has been bought with satchels full of currency, was a distant "Heaven." From there he telephoned the attorney.

Madison vouchsafed no information at first.

"I won't tell you anything that amounts to anything, and what

His "Virgin Mary"

Los Angeles, April 21.—(AP)—The federal grand jury convened today to hear Delight Jewett, 17-year-old Denver brunette, tell how she assertedly played "Virgin Mary" to the "Jesus the Christ" of John Wuest Hunt.

Hunt, white follower of the negro cultist, Father Divine, has been charged with transporting Miss Jewett from Colorado to his Beverly Hills home for immoral purposes.

Hunt planned to tour the nation preaching for Father Divine, she said. Among his other ambitious plans, she told federal agents, was for her to travel to a desert island and become the mother of a new Savior. She went to New York instead.

But Green was less lucky. In Harlem hospital his condition was described as serious. Police said the charge against Baker, or Father Divine, would be changed to

Announce Capitalization
But early today, as police of eight states received an alarm for apprehension of Father Major J. Divine the attorney announced capitalization.

Green was stabbed while attending one of the evangelist's services in his "kingdom" headquarters in West 115th street. There in the heart of Harlem, where the elevated train rumbles overhead, a friend of Green, Paul Camora, attempted to serve Father Divine with a summons in a civil suit.

A riot ensued. Negro adherents of "God"—whose legal name, police said, is George Baker—fell upon the process server from Union City, N. J., and beat him until he managed to wriggle through the crowd and reach a taxi. His hurts it developed were few.

But Green was less lucky. In Harlem hospital his condition was described as serious. Police said the charge against Baker, or Father Divine, would be changed to

Annual Inspection of Co. A is Public

City officials and citizens of Dixon are invited to attend the annual federal inspection of Co. A, 129th infantry, at the Armory hall Thursday evening at 8 o'clock at which time two regular United States army officers will be the inspectors. Major Harry C. Brown and Captain Lawrence Boineau from Fort Sheridan, north of Chicago, will be the inspecting officers.

At the regularly weekly drill of the company last evening each member was subjected to a rigid physical examination by Dr. Henry J. McCoy, medical officer, each receiving injections of typhoid and smallpox serum. Dr. Raymond Worsley also assisted in the medical examination, devoting his inspections to the mouth and teeth. He announced at the close of the inspection period that but two per cent of the company membership revealed defective teeth and commended the company for this low rating.

Confidence

Wilmington, N. C., April 21.—(AP)—From a number in prison to Wilmington's No. 1 citizen is the achievement of Thomas Edward Cooper, once known as the nation's youngest bank president.

Now 49 years old, Cooper was elected mayor of this city of 40,000 yesterday when he defeated Walter H. Blair, mayor for 12 years, in a non-partisan primary. The vote was Cooper 3,208; Blair 2,112. Cooper served nearly three years in federal and state prisons when convicted on charges growing out of the collapse in 1922 of two Wilmington banks he headed.

EIGHT HOUR BILL FIRST APPROVED, PASSES SENATE

Graduate Nurses And Domestic Placed On Exempt List

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—The administration backed women's eight-hour bill, the first labor measure to be approved by either house this session, was passed by the senate, 26 to 8, today and sent to the house.

Blocked last week when Senator Francis J. Loughran, its sponsor, was able to get only 25 of the required 26 votes on roll call, the bill exempts graduate nurses, domestics and at certain times telephone and telegraph operators, public emergencies, canneries and mercantile establishments.

William E. King, Chicago Republican, who made a vain attempt last week to have the bill amended to include domestics, asserted that a vote for the bill was a "condemnation of motherhood and forever seals the doom of about 250,000 women employed in domestic work."

Calls Bill "Hobby."
Loughran described his bill as a forward movement, "in which Illinois should not lag behind."

James O. Monroe, Collinsville Democrat, who has a women's eight hour bill pending, said the

Ogle Co. Special Deputy Sheriff is Lodged in Co. Jail

E. Oetzel, 55, Rochelle real estate dealer and special deputy sheriff of Ogle county was arrested yesterday afternoon at 4:15 by Patrolmen Glessner and Jones on Peoria avenue near Commercial alley, after four complaints had been received at the police station and two at the sheriff's office from women who claimed to have been annoyed by a strange man.

The arresting officers stated that Oetzel had left his parked car and seized a 15-year-old high school girl by the hand and was attempting to induce her to get into the car with him when his arrest took place.

In police court this morning at 11 o'clock Oetzel pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct and was fined $50 and cost by Justice J. O. Shaulis. In default of payment, he was remanded to the county jail.

18 Hours of Life

Detroit, April 21.—(AP)—Life lasted less than 18 hours, for a nine-ounce baby boy born to Mrs. Ida Papcik, 25, relief client.

The infant, born at 7 A. M. yesterday, died at 12:40 A. M. today. Had it lived it would have been the smallest to do so in the records of the American Medical Association.

Creditors of Van Sweringens To Get One Cent on the Dollar

Cleveland, April 21.—(AP)—Filing of claims of $70,000,000 against various estates of the late Van Sweringens brothers brought a prediction today that creditors of the railroad empire builders "may collect scarcely one cent on a dollar."

The Plain Dealer said total available assets of the Van Sweringens estates were reckoned "for the first time" at not more than $600,000, although no appraisal has been filed in probate court.

"It was learned reliably that assets in the partnership, estate will not exceed $300,000," the paper said. "Of the $600,000 left by E. B. Van Sweringens, only half will be available to creditors, it was said, because the other half was in life insurance that will go to his brother and sisters."

When "O. P." died last year, a year after the other rail and real estate magnate, "M. J." two little-known sisters and a brother, Herbert, survived. The sisters since have moved from the magnates' pretentious suburban estate, which is up for sale.

"Adding the net estate of M. J.—consisting of about $3,700, according to probate court records—to the other assets, the total assets available to satisfy claims of $70,000,000 amount to $603,000," the paper stated.

SENATE TAKES HOUSE BILLS OFF CALENDAR

Retaliation is Not Planned by Lower House Today

Springfield, Ill., April 21.—(AP)—In a single sweeping move, the senate today blocked action on all house bills in retaliation for what they claimed was unfair treatment of their measures in the lower body.

On motion of Minority Leader Earl B. Searcy of Springfield, who charged from the floor of the senate last night that Minority Leader Elmer J. Schnackenberg of the house had entered into a collusion with Speaker Louie E. Lewis, a Democrat, to sidetrack certain bills, the senate removed some 30 house bills from its calendar and the president's table and sent them to the executive committee, threatening an unprecedented legislative jam.

Referring to the members of the senate as "prima donnas," Majority Leader Benjamin S. Adamowski told the house that that body would not seek to retaliate.

"We're going to conduct the House as a deliberative body," he said, "as we have always conducted ourselves. We're going to send to the Senate those bills we think should be passed and are going to kill those we think should be killed."

Sales Tax In Danger
Adamowski condemned especially the action of the Senate in sidetracking his sales tax extension bill, pointing out that unless the measure is approved by the Senate by next week, the tax rate will drop to two per cent on May 1, cutting off $3,000,000 monthly which is used for relief.

George M. Maypole, president, pro-tem of the Senate, said, however, that the upper House would receive the sales tax bill from the committee next Tuesday and pass it at a midnight session a week from tonight. It would then go to the governor.

Referring to the Senate several times as "The House of Lord," Adamowski said: "They say opera stars are temperamental but they haven't seen the Illinois Senate, yet. A kindergarten wouldn't be allowed to conduct itself in that way."

Nelson Miss is Chicagoan's Bride

A wedding of interest to many of Dixon, Nelson and vicinity, was solemnized at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Mary's Catholic church at Sterling, when Miss Linnette Coppotelli, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Coppotelli of Nelson, became the bride of Albert Bruno Buzzari of Chicago. The nuptial mass was celebrated by Monsignor A. J. Burns. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Alice Coppotelli, while Phillip Bonardi of Rock Falls was groomsmen.

The bride was attired in floor-length gown of white satin, wearing a tulle veil and a circlet of pearls, the accessory trimmings being in white and pearl, and her bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore a floor-length gown of yellow crepe with matching accessories and she wore a corsage of roses and sweet peas.

Miss Celeste Ward of Sterling presided at the organ and the nuptial songs, "I Love You Truly", and "O Lord, I Am Not Worthy", were sung by William Klocke. Following the impressive service, the wedding party repaired to the Lincoln hotel where a wedding breakfast was served. Included in the company were Monsignor Burns and Rev. John Smith. The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jenkins and daughter Maribelle and Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Bittori of Freeport, Charles Lauri and a sister and brother-in-law of the groom, all of Chicago.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where delicious refreshments were served the guests. The center of attraction was a four-tiered wedding cake which was baked by Mrs. Louis Bevilacqua and decorated by Mrs. B. H. Veith, the color scheme being green, yellow and white and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

The bride, an attractive and charming young woman, is a graduate of the class of 1932 of the Rock Falls high school. Last year she completed a course in nursing and governing at the Michael Reese hospital in Chicago. The groom is a graduate of the Lane Technical school in Chicago and holds a responsible position in the engineering department of the Delta Engineering company in that city.

Mrs. Buzzari's travelling costume was of tan crepe, trimmed with du-bonnatt, with accessories to match and the young couple have gone to Chicago where they will reside in an apartment furnished by the groom, located at 834 Kedvale avenue. Before leaving for Chicago, the bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts from her host of acquaintances and was also the honoree of many pre-nuptial events.

Dietrich Home Is Scene Of Shower

Mrs. Norman W. Dietrich and Miss Hazel Rhodes were joint hostesses in entertaining for Mrs. Austin Smith, formerly Miss Marian Buzard, at the former's home on South Highland avenue Saturday evening.

The big event of the evening was the miscellaneous shower for the bride. She received many beautiful and useful gifts with the best wishes for her friends. At a late hour delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses. Each person present was given a favor.

Children's Heart Tag Day Saturday

Permission has been given to a representative of the Volunteers of America to hold their annual Children's Heart Tag Day in Dixon Saturday, as has been done in other nearby communities. The affair will be sponsored by the following well known leaders in civic and clerical circles:

Mayor William V. Stothower, Mrs. Mabel Shaw, Rev. Howard P. Buxton, Mrs. Collins Dysart, Rev. Fr. T. L. Walsh, Mrs. I. B. Potter, Mrs. H. U. Bardwell, Rev. and Mrs. James A. Barnett, with Miss Genevieve Lally in charge of the young people's work and finance.

The Volunteers of America organized over 30 years ago by General and Mrs. Maud Ballington Booth, is a national institution having one or more headquarters in every state in the Union. One department of its activities is spiritual work among prisoners in penal institutions and for this home missionary work clergymen are regularly employed by the organization. Another commendable phase of Mrs. Booth's work is looking after the families of prisoners anywhere in the state and who are often left destitute while the father serves his sentence. Said the representative of the organization:

"We find that when a man is convicted, it generally leaves the family about penniless. That the mother frequently moves away from the place of trial to keep neighbors from knowing that her husband is a convict. This reluctance on the part of the mother often results in great suffering to herself and the children, rather than expose their humiliating position by applying to their public officials for aid. There may be cases right in this county unknown to local agencies but known to the officers of the Volunteers of America."

The wife will write to her husband about their condition and he in his mental distress will ask the warden or chaplain if anything can be done for his family. Whereupon, the Volunteers of America are called in to help the family."

The work of this organization is supported entirely by voluntary contributions and it is for such cases as shown above as well as other unfortunate, that citizens are asked to buy a tag Saturday and give for it a quarter, a dime or half dollar. No sum will be too large and none too small to help this worthy cause.

DAILY HEALTH

By DR. IAGO GALDSTON
Influenza Prevention

Few diseases witnessed in epidemic form spread more widely or more quickly than influenza. One can see why the ancients held it in deep awe and fear. The very name influenza bears witness to this, for it implies that the disease is caused by certain mysterious astral or earthly influences.

Those who saw and felt the ravages of the 1918-19 influenza-pneumonia epidemic will recall the state of panic induced by this disease.

Today we know definitely that influenza is due to a filterable virus, a living agent too small to be seen even under the most powerful microscopes. While this solution of the mystery of the cause of influenza is a great medical triumph, the ultimate objective is the control or prevention of the disease. To this many research workers have devoted their energies. The reports from their laboratories are very encouraging.

The attack made upon this problem has been along the lines of vaccination. Experiments have shown that susceptible animals deliberately exposed to contact with limited quantities of influenza virus, can develop a resistance to the disease sufficient to protect them against large doses of the infective virus.

However, the vaccines so used contained living virus, and this creates the danger of the incidental production of an epidemic. For the living vaccine virus may get "out of control." Dead virus used in vaccines has not yielded good results when used on man.

Recently two American scientists have cultivated influenza virus in chick embryos. By such cultivation the virus appears to be altered so that while inducing resistance (when given by injection) it does not appear in the nose or throat of the vaccinated person, and so is not spread to others. This vaccine has been tried on 23 volunteers who have suffered no untoward results.

We may soon have a safe, effective vaccine against influenza.

TUBERCULOSIS TESTS URGED FOR TEACHERS

Rockford, Ill., April 21—(AP)—Tuberculosis tests for public school teachers were advocated by the Illinois Tuberculosis association at the closing session of its 28th annual convention.

"When children are skin tested in rooms where teachers are infected with tuberculosis," Dr. Arthur S. Webb, president of the Dupage county association, said, "approximately 40 per cent will show reaction. These positive skin tests mean children will have come in contact with the disease sufficient to develop sensitivity."

Dr. Webb said 18,000 teachers in the United States were infected. The convention elected the following officers for the coming

AVIATION IN THE SPANISH WAR

We should not judge the potentialities of bombing planes in the next world war on the basis of what bombing planes have accomplished at Madrid in the Spanish civil war.

Judging by reports originating from Madrid and from rebel headquarters, aviators have managed to keep the inhabitants of the beleaguered capital in a state of alarm and have caused heavy damage, but they have not forced surrender of the city, nor have they been a decisive factor in any battle.

We begin to suspect that the rebel command is divided between General Franco and outside influences, including control from Rome and Berlin. The number of planes available for both rebel and loyalist forces has been pitifully small as compared with the enormous aviation resources built up in Moscow, Berlin and Rome, not to mention socialist Paris.

Furthermore, Madrid has been reduced to a state where a few bombs more or less do not make a great deal of difference. Madrid is not now a railroad center, a seaport, a banking community nor even a manufacturing district. It is not even a seat of government. If the rebels capture the town they will have gained little but moral advantage.

Aviation enthusiasts who believe airplanes will make decisive strokes at the onset of the next world war, if it materializes, do no picture any such operations as have been carried on at Madrid.

They believe the first warning of hostilities will be the sight of hundreds of heavy bombing planes, escorted by fast fighters. Fighters and bombers will first attack the enemy airports, as the Japanese have done on one or two occasions. If the surprise is complete, the airports will be rendered so useless that defending planes can not even take off.

At any rate, the invading fighting planes would engage the defense squadrons while the bombers systematically attack the city's most vulnerable points. Railway yards and shops, munitions factories, waterworks, houses of parliament, banking centers communications buildings and waterfronts will be reduced, if possible, to ruins.

London defense strategists have foreseen such attacks and have considered their possibility so real that they have planned to build around the city a fence of steel wire, suspended from balloons. Anti-aircraft artillery has been stationed at strategic spots and the government has launched a huge program of airplane construction. Sound detecting devices have been advanced enormously since the World War, so that huge mechanical ears will pick up the sound of an airplane even before it can be heard by the human ear, and inform gunners of the exact location of the enemy plane.

However, all these precautions are defensive. The defensive, in a situation such as described here, is at a peculiar disadvantage and London, Paris, Berlin or Moscow will need a great deal of fortitude.

They would be under a more furious attack than Madrid ever has suffered.

WHY 70?

News reports are that a corporation stockholder wanted the chairman of the board ousted because the said chairman was past 70 years of age, but when the battle ended, the chairman was retained in office on the ground that he was too valuable to lose.

Probably any expert would tell the world that drawing the line at 70 is extremely unscientific, and to do anything unscientific, that can not be demonstrated by curves, charts, psychological analysis, graphs, algebraic equations, plane and solid geometry, trigonometry and higher mathematics, is unforgivable. It is unforgivable because Washington and the nearby cities into which bureaucracy has overflowed are full of what passes for brains.

Why 70? Why should a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States be perfectly capable of casting what may be a deciding vote in an epochal case on the day he is 69 years 364 days old, but be barred the following day on the theory that some time during the night he has lost touch with the world? Why should he be perfectly able to do his duties on the day he is 69 years 364 days old, but require an assistant on the following day?

Why should a justice be capable of rendering a decision as important as those that terminated AAA and NRA just because he lacks a few hours of being 70 years old, but be incompetent, by implication, of rendering a decision on the following day about whether imported fiddlestrings come under the heading of meat or musical instruments?

If the congress is going to legislate on the basis of a justice's touch with the world, how is it going to decide? Obviously no representative or senator out of touch with the world ought to be permitted to vote, so some should decide first whether the congress, individually and collectively is senile.

Perhaps it would be well if an alphabetical agency were created to examine all heads at the capital.

NEIGHBORHOOD PLANNING

A state neighborhood improving act, enabling property owners to work together to improve or protect the character of their locality has been proposed by the National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Property owners in cities without zoning ordinances will study the provisions of the act with interest, having in mind the possibility that their own home neighborhood can be affected adversely by being put to use not consistent with its character as a place to live. They will also realize that, if inroads already have been made upon their locality, it would be advantageous if property owners could take steps to prevent spread of the deterioration.

The law, as proposed by the association, would make it possible to bound and define a neighborhood, after which the residents or owners could cooperate with constituted city authorities to bring about the change or protection desired.

COMEBACK TACTICS

In his 73-year-old aunt, whom he once banished from Spain, ex-king Alfonso apparently has a sturdy protagonist.

At least she has demanded that he be restored to the Spanish throne. The king has given nearly $10,000,000 to aid the insurgent cause, she points out, and should be returned to his throne "as a reward for what he has done."

If the insurgents finally win, Alfonso may recover his crown. But if he does, it is doubtful if he will find the fruits of his victory to be sweet. A monarch who has helped one side or another to continue a war that drenches his country in blood certainly is not one who merits, or will get, the undivided loyalty and affection of his subjects.

An unselfish leader, one who loved the land of his fathers, would have tried without stint to end the dreadful conflict.

OBITUARY

MRS. ELIZABETH BECKWITH

(Contributed)

Mrs. Elizabeth May Martin Beckwith, age 72 years, was born Aug. 2, 1865 in Gap Grove, Palmyra township, Lee county, Ill. and passed to her reward in St. Mary's hospital, in Kansas City, Mo., April 15, 1937.

She was the daughter of Jacob and Isabelle Martin, and one of a family of nine children.

She left Dixon about fifty years ago, and since that time has made her home in Kansas City. Death came after many years of patient suffering.

Her husband, Frank Beckwith, and an infant son preceded her to the land beyond forty-three years ago. Also her parents, three sisters and one brother have preceded her to the grave.

The following brothers remain to mourn her departure: Frank L. Martin of Tribune, Kan.; Charles L. Martin of Dixon, Ill.; and Eugene Martin also of Dixon. A sister, Mrs. Mary Eathing of Dixon also remains. Many other loved ones and friends also remain to mourn the departing of this sister and friend.

Services were conducted last Saturday in Kansas City, Mo., where she had been a member of the First Congregational church, and where she had many friends that knew and loved her.

As she neared the end she was often heard to repeat the eighth verse of the fourth Psalm: "I will both lay me down in peace and sleep; for the Lord only maketh me dwell in safety. Thus, she gave good evidence that she was ready to go without any fears or regrets. She was a patient sufferer, even though she was afflicted for many years, and perhaps she longed for the time when she depart and be with Jesus, which the Apostle Paul said: "Is far better."

No shadows there, no evening twilight creepeth;
No midnight dark its mantle deep doth spread;
No silver star from through the darkness peepeth;
There is no night where dwell the blessed dead.

There is no night, no night of crushing sorrow;
No night of pain for anguished hearts to bear;
No need to hope for some bright dawning morrow—
For with the blessed dead is no night there.

There is no night of sadness and of weeping;
No night of tossing on some couch of pain;
For—to the blessed dead, in Jesus keeping,
These things of time and sense come not again.

There is no night of the things unknown, uncertain;
Things which now try the heart to make it strong;
There is no night—there is the veiling curtain—
Just light, and bliss; and joy, and endless song.

Funeral services were conducted at the Jones funeral home in Dixon Tuesday afternoon, April 20, 1937, by Rev. Paul D. Gordon, of Bethel U. E. church. John 14th chapter and II Cor. 5:1-17 were read for the Scripture lesson. Richard Weyant and Mrs. Paul D. Gordon sang "In The Garden" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere." Mrs. Charles Bishop played the organ. The text for the message was a favorite verse of the deceased, Psalm 4:8. The body was laid to rest in the shade of an old pine tree in Prairieville cemetery.

INVENTOR OF RICKSHA WAS AN AMERICAN

Shanghai, China—Thousands of U. S. Marines in this city and in other parts of the Orient travel by jinriksha, but very few of them are aware that an erstwhile sea soldier was its inventor. Jonathan Goble, once a marine and later a missionary to Japan, is credited with having suggested the idea of man-drawn vehicles to the Japanese.

Private Goble was a member of the marine detachment on the U. S. S. Susquehanna, one of the ships of Commodore Perry's fleet, and he was present at the signing of America's first treaty with Japan in 1854. Born in New York state, he served as a sea soldier from December, 1851, until May, 1855.

It may be that while the marine was in Japan with Perry that his idea of the ricksha was conceived, but it was some years later, after Goble had returned to Japan as a missionary, that he suggested to the Japanese the idea of making these two-wheeled go-carts a means of conveyance.

Goble was a very religious man, and for this reason he returned to Nippon with a view of converting the Japanese to the Christian faith. The first jinriksha made its appearance some time between 1867 and 1871 and in subsequent years its use has spread rapidly to China, Singapore and other Oriental countries.

Inazo Nitobe, a Japanese historian, wrote in part: "To an American, this same Jonathan Goble, is due most probably an invention for which the Japanese may be temporarily thankful. The idea of an enlarged perambulator was suggested by Mr. Goble, the one-time marine who had returned to Japan as a missionary, and his thought matured in the so-called man-powered carriage."

But the lot of the ricksha coolie today is not a happy one. Several thousand of them make a precarious living in Shanghai alone, their incomes sometimes averaging less than four dollars a month, while the death rate among them is high. Ricksha pulling has become a highly organized business with owners and middlemen getting most of the profits, a development which Jonathan Goble could not have foreseen when he conceived his idea of the two-wheeled taxi.

A pedestrian who dashes across the street in the middle of the block is as foolish as a man who bets 17 million dollars against one dollar that he can throw a bookie into the air and catch it when it falls. It was held in a recent safety article. Each would have a good chance of being successful, but the gain is insignificant as compared to the risk.

AWARDS FOR MT. MORRIS SCOUTS THIS EVENING

Court of Honor Will Convene There at 7:30 O'clock

Scouts, scoutmasters, parents and others interested in scouting will gather from all corners of Ogle county tonight at a Court of Honor to be held in the high school gymnasium at 7:30 o'clock. At this meeting Ed Rowley, newly appointed field executive for the Ogle-Lee district, will present the many awards for advancement made by the scouts in this vicinity.

The excellent direction by Scoutmaster Harry Conrad becomes increasingly evident as many local scouts will be among those to receive honors. Bryant Zimmerman and John Yoe, both 14 years old, who have kept pace with each other during their scouting careers, will receive their Eagle badges, the highest award made to any scout, while Tommy Leonard will be advanced to the rank of Life Scout, and William Chaffee and Marshall Woodworth will be awarded their Star badges. In addition to working faithfully toward this advancement in rank, these boys have given valuable assistance to Mr. Conrad in preparing other Scouts in their work, as has Bill Asp, popular, genial assistant scoutmaster. In the lower ranks, Harlan Baker and Robert Burke have been making rapid progress, and will receive their second class pins.

All scouts from other Ogle county troops, who have made advancement since the last court of honor will be present to receive their awards.

The recent activity of the local troop of boys in collecting paper, indicates that they are preparing for a busy round of spring and summer hiking and camping activity. An organization which provided so well for the welfare of its members, deserves to have every parent and every friend of the boys on hand next Wednesday.

FARM INCOME ABOUT $9,000,000 OVER LAST YEAR

Springfield, Ill., April 21—(AP)—Boom prices for farm commodities boosted the income of Illinois farmers in January and February nearly $9,000,000 above the same period last year.

A. J. Surratt, federal statistician, reported today that receipts from principal farm products the first two months this year totaled $71,293,000, compared with $62,455,000 in 1936, $51,300,000 in 1935 and $38,145,000 in 1934.

Surratt said in his mid-month crop review that spring work and crop growth are behind schedule, with the delay caused by wet fields and cold weather more pronounced in the northern half of the state.

Oats seeding was nearing completion in the south and central districts, but very little oats, spring wheat and barley have been seeded in the northern section. Pastures were backward with condition rated mostly fair to poor. Alfalfa, clover and pastures have suffered more from soil heaving than in several years past.

In the southern districts, wheat condition ranges from fair to good, but elsewhere in the state was reported poor to fair.

While the April 1 farm reserves of corn at 59,379,000 bushels in Illinois were larger than in any other state, they still were the smallest on record. About 25 per cent of the 1936 production or 4,304,000 bushels of soybeans were on Illinois farms April 1, compared with 4,903,000 bushels on January 1, this year.

Short supplies and high prices of feed grains have increased the marketing of cattle on feed in recent weeks.

Feed farm supplies were becoming low or scarce in southern Illinois.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. So Eudora Ramsay Richardson thinks in "The Influence of Men—Incurable." She says—abridged—Whatever the average man believes, he holds to be both true and self-evident. For example he holds that all men are providers whether or not they ever provided anybody with anything. One old gentleman who had taken a wife to support him said he "carried enough life insurance to take care of the little woman in case of his death—" insurance that the wife paid for. Yet he thought of himself as a provider. Well, Mrs. Richardson puts up a strong case.

Deny Attempts To Wreck Fast Train

Chicago, April 21—(AP)—H. B. Voorhees, vice president of the Alton railroad company, denied today reports of an attempt to wreck one of the road's trains at Carlinville, Ill., yesterday.

"There was nothing to indicate such a thing," he said. "A track tie was found across the south-bound track, but it was not placed squarely. It was established that the tie had fallen from a flatcar on a north-bound train a few hours previously."

Reports from Carlinville had said "a pile of ties" had been placed on the track.

I'll Tell One

Of all the annoyances to which a car owner is subjected—next to having to listen to the back-seat driver—there is none worse than when he locks himself out of his car. Now, I have an idea that should overcome this difficulty and I offer it gratuitously to Henry Ford for the benefit of his suffering customers. If Henry doesn't want it, Mr. Chevy can have it. Here it is: Equip the car-doors with combination locks like those on safe-doors. All you would have to do would be to remember the combination. "Good, isn't it? I'll say it is! The credit for this grand idea, however, should go to Bess, for it was inspired by an accident that happened to Larry and Bess on one of their movie nights. It seems that Larry is blessed with a wife who is an adept at back-seat driving. Bess announces all of the red lights the instant of the change, she watches the speedometer and she can talk the toughest traffic cop into giving her husband a ticket. On the night in question, Larry found, after coming out of the movie, that he had left the keys in the car and had locked himself out. It was a sorry predicament, that is, until Bess was struck by a brilliant idea. "Oh, don't worry about it dear," she said, "we can ride home in the rumble seat."

OIL LEASES IN LITTLE EGYPT AID FARMERS

Score of Counties are Benefitted in South State

Centralia, Ill., April 21—(AP)—Eeypl's farmers have added oil leases this spring to their source of revenue.

A survey just completed of more than a score of counties in the newly discovered southern Illinois "oil basin" revealed that within a period of 12 months oil leases have jumped from as low as three cents an acre to as high as $10.

Acres in some counties, official records disclosed, is leased almost solid.

In the Wayne county fields, the records of County Recorder O. C. Draper showed 350,213 of the 450,450 acres of land in the county under lease. Between Jan. 1, 1936, and April 1, 1937, there is not a township in the county not leased partly. Some are leased solid.

Leasing in other sections as taken from county records included:

Effingham County. Half of the 300,000 acres are under lease for gas and oil while an estimated additional 75,000 acres have been leased but not recorded. A total of 2,689 new leases have been filed during the period, the county clerk said. The first drilling was begun several weeks ago on two miles south of Effingham on the Joe Haas farm.

Jefferson County. From Jan. 1, 1936, to April 1, 1937, a total of more than 3,500 leases were filed in all of the 16 townships. County officials estimated that at least two-thirds of the county was under lease.

Richland County. Of 357,000 acres, Circuit Clerk C. D. Travers estimated approximately 90,000 were under lease. He reported 258 leases had been filed since the first of the year.

Lawrence County. A total of 66 leases representing 4,795 acres have been filed since Jan. 1, 1936. Tax records disclosed approximately 29,000 acres of producing oil property in this long established oil field.

Hamilton County. Circuit Clerk W. A. Abbott said 800 leases were filed in Hamilton county during the last year. The total acreage under lease approximates 65,000.

Edwards County. Number of leases filed up to April 1 totaled 295, representing 31,000 acres. The west side of the county from the north end to highway 15 is leased solid. Another block of leases has been secured in the northeast corner but not yet filed.

The records show the south end of the county was also leased almost solid but not filed. Between 6,000 and 8,000 acres have been leased scatteringly by one company.

Massac County. Approximately 35,000 acres in the northwest section under lease.

Marion County. A total of 3,444 leases filed since Jan. 1, 1936, with between 50 and 100 leases being recorded daily, the circuit clerk reported. Approximately 200,000 of the county's 386,649 acres now under lease.

Crawford County. Three hundred and thirty leases recorded since the first of the year comprising 26,058 acres. Most of this county, an established oil producing territory, has been under lease from 25 to 30 years.

Grundy County. Ninety oil and gas leases filed in the first three months of 1937, covering approximately 7,000 acres.

Jasper County. Since Dec. 1, 1936, 208 oil and gas leases recorded here. Before Dec. 1, there were 1,494 leases.

Saline County. Between Dec. 11, 1936, and the latter part of March, 74 leases comprising 7,103 acres were filed.

Pope County. Oil and gas leases have been recorded on about 5,000 acres.

Fayette County. Since Jan. 1, 1936, there have been 2,225 oil and gas leases filed for recording, comprising 452,815 acres or about three fourths of the county.

Clinton County. About 700 leases filed since Jan. 1, 1936. About 85,000 acres are recorded as leased.

Jackson County. Leases filed since Jan. 1, 1936, total 140, comprising 20,530 acres.

WARNS SALOON KEEPERS ARID ERA RETURNING

Unless They Clean Up Their Businesses Quickly

East St. Louis, Ill., April 21—(AP)—Arthur Smith, chairman of the Illinois liquor control commission, warned nearly 100 representatives of breweries and wholesale liquor firms at a meeting here to clean up the East St. Louis retail liquor trade or be driven out of business.

Frequently banging his fist on a table for emphasis, he charged that "vicious" conditions in the city's liquor traffic were due in part to illegal subsidizing of saloons by some breweries and liquor dealers.

Describing a personal tour of East St. Louis saloons, he said he had seen policemen in uniform drinking at bars, young boys playing slot machines and young girls, some of them apparently no more than 12 years old, in various stages of intoxication.

"The city fathers apparently are interested in only two things," Smith declared, "in getting their political friends into the saloon business and getting money from liquor licenses."

Whole Thing Rotten
"The whole thing's rotten," continued heatedly, "I know you're thinking, 'Why talk to us about this—we're only wholesalers.' Well, that's right, you're wholesalers of prostitution, dice games, slot machines and bar fixtures, and if you don't wipe out these conditions, you're going to be wiped out yourselves."

Smith said his investigations had disclosed some breweries and wholesalers had hired secret agents to set up saloon-keepers in business, buy their licenses, which cost $500 a year, and supply fixtures and stocks.

The brewers, he charged, were interested in "volume" production at the expense of moral conditions and, in consequence, of their own ultimate interests.

"Some of you executives," he said pointedly, "ought to spend less time behind your desks and more time on the firing line acquainting yourselves with conditions as they are. You'll have to police your own business or the respectable citizens of the state will rise up against you."

If conditions are not changed, he asserted, the country will "go dry" again. "And it will be your fault," he told his audience. He pointed out about 300 Illinois communities voted on local option Tuesday.

F. D. R. PLEADS FOR ECONOMY; RELIEF FUND

Liberal Bloc Will Try To Balk His Requests

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Washington, April 21.—Democrat leaders, heading President Roosevelt's plea for economy, resisted efforts today of two groups of representatives to boost next year's relief funds far above his recommendation of $1,500,000,000.
Rep. Maverick (D-Tex.) invited more than a score of his colleagues to discuss the possibility of increasing the appropriation by $900,000,000. Rep. Boleau (Prog-Wis.) said the House "liberal bloc" would try to raise it to $3,000,000,000.
Administration chiefs, besides forecasting defeat for these proposals, expressed certainty they could stop efforts of other Senate and House members to cut Roosevelt's request by a third.
Speaker Bankhead indicated the leaders were ready to put on the pressure to block all bills—except those of the utmost importance which would authorize extra appropriations.
The president, furthermore, said a measure probably would be offered to let him withhold from federal departments appropriations which he considered unnecessary.
He wanted to keep the relief fund at $1,500,000,000, however, on the ground that any smaller amount would mislead the nation and necessitate a later request for additional funds.
The works progress administration said today unemployment would continue to be a serious problem in coming months and that even a high tide of prosperity could not cut the roll of jobless below 4,000,000.

Urges Insurance Program

A report by deputy administrator Aubrey Williams blamed changing productivity and additions to the labor supply for the prospect. He urged an "integrated and perfected program of insurance, public work and public assistance."
"Acceptance of even an optimistic forecast of 5,500,000 to 7,500,000 unemployed in 1937 presupposes nearly as great a need for a federal works program as in 1936," Williams said.
"It is often said that an increase in employment should produce a corresponding decline in the number of persons receiving relief.
"This statement overlooks the fact that not more than half the unemployed are receiving relief, and that any increase in employment can be supplied from a number of sources—the unemployed on relief, the experienced unemployed not on relief, new workers coming on the labor market, and surplus workers."
Employment on the works program, the report showed, dropped from a peak of 3,839,000 in March, 1936, to 2,884,000 on Feb. 20. The average WPA monthly expenditure declined from $172,000,000 for March, 1936, to $148,000,000 for January, 1937.
Roosevelt said at his press conference late yesterday that the omission of estimates in the revised budget for a low cost housing program and aid for farm tenants did not mean they were eliminated.
The public works revolving fund, he pointed out, contains between $100,000,000 and $150,000,000 of unobligated money, some of which might go toward housing. Farm tenancy assistance might be provided, he indicated, from part of the $75,000,000 usually set aside from relief funds for farm rehabilitation.

Application For Probation Of Bank Embezzler Probed

Chicago, April 21.—(AP)—An application for probation filed for Barney Paulsen, 21, confessed embezzler of $2,500 from the Deerfield, Ill., State Bank where he formerly was assistant cashier, was under investigation today by federal court probation officers.
U. S. Judge Charles Woodward last week sentenced Paulsen to serve a year and a day in Leavenworth penitentiary, but stayed the sentence pending the probation inquiry. A hearing on the probation plea was scheduled for April 30. Paulsen is in jail here.
Walter Eulich, probation officer, said his investigation was incomplete and declined to say what his recommendation would be. Assistant District Attorney Thomas B. Hart, who prosecuted Paulsen, said he would "present all facts to the judge and leave it entirely up to him."
Paulsen, a $100 a month bank employee, said he spent most of the money he embezzled in a night club.

ELECTIONS

Many Municipalities in Illinois Went to Polls Tuesday

(By The Associated Press)

Incomplete election returns from many municipalities of the state indicated today that Republicans won twice as many majority offices as their Democratic opponents.

Election officials in 1035 Illinois municipalities where ballots were cast yesterday reported a heavy vote, attributed in many cases to factional disputes and the wet and dry question.

On the basis of votes cast in 22 municipalities the wets won 12 contests and the dries 10.

Republican mayors were elected at Galena, Waukegan, Kankakee, Havana, Bartonville, Litchfield, Carlinville and Pontiac. Democrats claimed majority seats at Jacksonville, Lincoln, Washington and Bushnell.

All candidates did not declare their political affiliations.

Jacksonville elected a Democratic mayor for the first time in 30 years while the Republican ticket was swept into office at Kankakee with the largest majorities since 1927.

Herbert H. Vasconcellos, chief deputy sheriff of Morgan county, was elected mayor of Jacksonville by a margin of 481 votes over Republican Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn. Vasconcellos carried into office with him a Democratic city clerk and treasurer.

At Kankakee Albert Hattenburg, a Republican, defeated Walter F. Heydenfeldt, a Democrat, by a majority of 1218. The entire Republican ticket went in with Hattenburg.

The wets won an overwhelming victory at Sycamore, where charges that "spiked" punch had been imbibed by students at a school party were investigated several weeks ago. Voters went wet, 1693 to 668, despite the dries' vigorous campaign to drive taverns out of the city.

By a vote of 530 to 189, Harry Fred Howell won the Shawneetown majority race over June Rowan. By electing Howell, Shawneetown voters were a step nearer in abandoning the present site of the community and rebuilding on higher ground, safe from the flood waters of the Ohio river. While serving as alderman, Howell became a member of the committee formed to seek federal and state aid to finance the removal to a new 400 acre site. The city was inundated several months ago.

At Waukegan, Republicans re-elected Mayor Mancel Talcott and won 10 of the 14 council seats. An incumbent lost at Galena where I. L. Gathers, a Republican, defeated Mayor Charles Blum, Democrat, by a vote of 1010 to 944.

At Havana, Harry F. Bell, Republican incumbent, defeated Adolph Schill, a Democrat, 914 to 893.

William Stoker, Republican incumbent since 1928, was re-elected mayor of Bartonville, defeating his Democratic opponent, John E. Robinson, by a vote of 520 to 383.

John G. Millhouse, former Republican state director of mines and minerals, was elected mayor of Litchfield.

Carlinville Republicans wrote in the name of Denby Boring to give him a majority of nearly 500 over E. R. Phelps, Democrat, whose name was on the ballot.

Fred Hertz, a Republican, was re-elected mayor of Pontiac over Charles Stephens, Democrat. Seven of 10 aldermen also were re-elected.

Results in other majority contests included:

TREASURY GETS REVISED BUDGET HUNTING TAXES

Seek Cheapest Terms To Borrow Money; Get Revenue

Washington, April 21.—(AP)—The submission of President Roosevelt's revised budget message started the Treasury today on a search for the cheapest terms to borrow money and for methods to tighten the tax system to bolster future income.

First, however, fiscal spokesmen predicted an already launched program of borrowing $50,000,000 a week would be continued until $300,000,000 had been obtained.

They said they would have to determine by June 15 whether to continue borrowing on short-term bills, or turn to longer-term bond issues for future funds. On that date about $300,000,000 of discontinued bills issued in March will come due.

Originally, it had been expected these bills would be paid out of tax receipts for the second quarter of the year, but authorities said today this would be prevented because revenues were not coming up to expectations.

Payoff Loans

The same problem will arise on Sept. 15, they believe, when the government will have to pay back the money it is now borrowing in $50,000,000 weekly chunks.

The unsettled state of the market for government bonds in recent weeks apparently led to Secretary Morgenthau's decision to issue short-term bills to tide the treasury over for the rest of this fiscal year.

President Roosevelt's message yesterday showed that the net deficit, estimated last January at $2,248,128,000, would be increased by $309,000,000 through failure of tax collections to match up with forecasts.

Additional borrowing before July 1 is expected to push the public debt to a new peak of $35,335,000,000—$1,557,000,000 over last July 1.

In the fiscal year beginning July 1, the treasury must prepare to pay off $2,468,000,000 of notes coming due, in addition to taking care of the projected new borrowings of $418,000,000 to make up a deficit.

BALL FILM TO BE SCREENED; STATE COLONY

"Heads Up Baseball" To Feature Joe Di Maggio

A special showing of "Heads-Up Baseball," new official motion picture of the American League, will be held at the Amusement Hall at the Elgin State Hospital, Thursday at 8 P. M.

Acclaimed an outstanding achievement from both the educational and entertainment standpoint, the film is being recommended by baseball authorities to all devotees of the national pastime, players and fans alike.

Stars of the American League form the cast, and include the much publicized Iowa high school youth, Bob Feller, who in his first full year in the majors will draw as much in salary as did Christy Mathewson in his prime; Tony Lazzeri, voted the "most valuable player" in the league; Rogers Hornsby, the greatest right-handed hitter of all time; Lou Gehrig, the "iron man of baseball," and more than a score of others.

The Yankee's sensational rookie, Joe DiMaggio, whose batting average and fine fielding established him as the "find" of the year, has his swing compared to that of Luke Appling, the American League's ace stickler in 1936. Their contrasting form at the plate dispels the age-old adage that "batters are born, not made."

Among the many other features of the film are explanatory shots fully illustrating a number of commonly misunderstood rules. Charlie Gehringer, Detroit's graceful second sacker, gives the correct interpretation of the infield fly rule. Others explain the umpires ruling when one man passes another on the base paths and what happens when a base is torn loose by the force of a terrific slide. Scenes from the 1936 World Series also are shown.

George Moriarty, whose career as a player, manager and umpire dates back more than 30 years, is both the author and director of "Heads-Up Baseball," which has been produced and is being made available without charge to schools, colleges, clubs, theatres and other business, social and educational organizations by the Fisher Body division of General Motors.

Ted Husing, one of the best known and best-informed sports announcers, interviews many of the baseball celebrities who appear on the screen and describes the action throughout the picture.

Prints have been prepared in both 16 mm. and 35 mm. sizes, and may be used with any standard sound projector. A 3-reel, as well as a 6-reel version, is obtainable, the former requiring approximately 30 minutes for a showing, the latter slightly less than an hour.

The advisory staff that aided in the production of the film includes American League President William Harridge; Connie Mack, manager, Philadelphia Athletics; Eddie Collins, vice-president, Boston Red Sox; Billy Evans, formerly general business manager, Cleveland Indians; Clarke Griffith, president Washington Senators; and three nationally-known sports writers. These are, Warren Brown, Chicago Herald and Examiner; H. C. Salsinger, Detroit News; and Joe Williams, New York World-Telegram.

Facts About Film
What it is in the words of Commissioner Landis: "The primary purpose of this picture is to demonstrate the mastery and technique of big league play. These big league stars explain the fundamentals of the game for you in the simple language of the diamond. We are grateful to them for their service and cooperation in the making of this picture. I believe baseball is loved by an entire nation because it embodies that priceless spirit of equality that is the very backbone of American life."

Produced and distributed by the Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corporation through the courtesy and cooperation of league officials, club owners, managers, coaches and players.

Available to schools, colleges, theatres, clubs, and business, social and educational organizations—supplied free of charge, at the request of such organizations.

FOUR HURLERS BACK IN FORM FIRST GAMES

Had Fallen From Glory Past 2 Years By Letdowns

New York, April 21—(AP)—Four pitchers, all of whom had more or less fallen from glory in the past two years, were back on top today as the result of yesterday's opening games of the 1937 baseball season.

These four, Darrel Elijah (Cy) Blanton of Pittsburgh, Hal Schumacher of the New York Giants, Elden Auker of the Detroit Tigers and Monte Weaver of the Washington Senators turned in some of the most sparkling feats on the six-game program which attracted a total of 181,016 cash customers.

The seventh game on the general opening slate, which followed Monday's previews in two cities, was rained out. Chicago's White Sox and the St. Louis Browns, weather permitting will make their debuts today.

Won 18 Lost 13

Blanton, who won 18 and lost 13 for the Pirates in 1935, suffered last season from the second-season letdown that afflicts many star rookies and his earned run average hopped from 2.59 to 3.51. In spite of that, Manager Pie Traynor shoved Blanton into the opener against the Chicago Cubs yesterday, and Cy pitched a five-hit shutout to win 5-0 and send Pirate hopes soaring.

Schumacher, another sinker ball expert, won 19 and lost 9 two seasons back, but he almost threw his arm out of joint on every pitch and last year had trouble with his right elbow.

Schumacher's old control was there for the 1937 opener and Hal limited the Dodgers to five hits as the inter-borough rivalry was renewed before 32,387 fans. In addition, he drove in the ninth-inning run that brought the Giants a 4 to 3 victory.

Auker, No. 3 on the list, also was at his best in 1935 when he won 18 and lost only 7, but slumped last year when it was thought his "submarine" delivery had taken its toll on his arm. He got his comeback chance because both Schoolboy Rowe and Tommy Bridges were ill, limited Cleveland to nine blows and won 4-3 when Gerald Walker thrilled 38,200 customers with a terrific clouting show.

Slid Back to Albany
Weaver, a star in 1932, slid back to Albany three years later. He returned to the Senators last year and showed so much improvement he was named to oppose the Yankees before the 45-850 crowd that turned out for New York's opener. He subdued the world champions in all but one inning and came through with a 3-2 decision.

One of the largest crowds in the history of Cincinnati's Crosley field, 34,374, saw Dizzy Dean, touched for 13 hits, blank the Reds for ten innings and emerge with a 2 to 0 decision when Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize connected for successive doubles off Ray (Peaches) Davis, Lippy Leo Durocher singled and Catcher Bruce Ogrodowski dropped a long fly into the outfield.

The Philadelphia Athletics, who led the American league for one day, came back to normal when three pitchers failed to check the attack of the Boston Red Sox and the gold-plated won 11 to 5.

The Boston Bees and the Phillies, who opened with a double-header Monday, remained idle.

The first water power mill in America was established at South Berwick, Me., in 1620, by Ferdinand Gorges, who obtained a grant from England empowering him to develop water power on the land lying between the 40th and 48th latitudes from sea to sea.

Other members of the scratch group were the veteran Chick Evans of Chicago, 1936 midwest amateur champion who qualified for the national open, and Russ Martin, another Chicagoan, who went to the quarter-finals of the national amateur, losing to John Fischer, the ultimate title winner.

Rated at an ace stroke handicap were Don Armstrong of Aurora, Ill., George Dawson of Chicago, and Wilbur Kokes of the University of Illinois.

They will represent 500 colleges and universities.

Herman Wants His Old Number Back

Chicago, April 21—(AP)—Billy Herman, the Cubs star second baseman, wants his old number back. Herman has worn Number 2 each season since 1932. A change in the numbering system, to give Manager Charlie Grimm, long wearer of 1, number 1 and 2 to Captain Gabby Hartnett, however, gave Herman number 4.

His objection is that the last three wearers of number 4, Babe Hehrman, Chuck Klein and Ethel Allen, were sold or traded.

NAVY CLUB IS SPONSORING BIG REUNION

The Navy club of Rockford is sponsoring a huge reunion of navy men residing in northern Illinois, western Iowa and southern Wisconsin, which is planned to be held in Rockford some time during the month of May. This reunion will bring together the "goats" and leathernecks who have served at any time in the United States navy to renew acquaintances and reminisce over their navy experiences.

New York, April 21—(AP)—Another week of the world pocket billiard championship and the boys will settle for any scheme, even to pulling the champions' name out of a hat, that will get the title matches over and done.

The tourney itself ended in a four way tie between Ralph Greenleaf and Andrew Ponzi of New York, Jimmy Caras, the defending champion from Wilmington, Del., and Irving Crane, a youngster from Rochester, N. Y. The quartet embarked on a round-robin playoff. It ended last night with Crane out of the picture and the other three ready for a second playoff today.

Caras will open against Greenleaf and Ponzi will play the loser immediately after the afternoon match. Tonight Ponzi will meet the afternoon winner and there's no guarantee that there won't be another tie when it's all over.

Here and There In Sports World

By Eddie Brietz
New York, April 21—(AP)—He's still tops. Babe Ruth visited the Yankee stadium yesterday and stole the show right away from the Yanks and Senators. He got the biggest hand of the day when he walked into his box. In the fourth inning, the great man reached across the railing and snagged a foul off Frank Crosetti's bat. He chuckled as he stowed it away in his hip pocket, just like any other Yankee fan.

Opening day notes: Frank Hogan, Washington catcher and Walter Brown, Yankee pitcher, the biggest men in baseball posed for pictures together. Something Hogan would never do before because he was so much bigger than Brown. Which shows you how he has reduced. Early in the second inning, Willard Mullins, crack cartoonist of the World Telegram, said: "The official attendance will be 45,880." In the seventh it was announced as 45,850. Willard must be slipping. When the parade to the flagpole passed the right field bleachers, 3,000 fans began to chant: "We want Ruffing." Col. Ruppert's blood boiled, as they say in Brooklyn. Tony Lazzeri and Joe DiMaggio who have been on the outs, made up just before the opener. Max Kase, Journal sports writer, brought them together.

AMERICAN MISSIONARY
RENOUNCES CITIZENSHIP
Los Angeles—(AP)—The Rev.
Carl Marvin Hensley has renounced American citizenship to become a citizen of China. He has written friends here: "I have taken the name of Han Su-Li."
A native of Willett, Calif., Hensley has been a missionary in China since 1919.

"I wanted to convince the Chinese, who are my brothers, that I am spiritually as well as politically one of them," he wrote. "I do not consider I am making a sacrifice, for whatever is worth having is worth paying for."

Looking like a common folding fan, the dagger fan is really a sheath containing a short, sharp stiletto. The deceptive weapon was invented by the Japanese.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Knapp motored to Peoria Sunday to spend the day with their son and wife, Mr.
and Mrs. Robert Knapp.
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Behler and family of Sycamore spent Friday at the C. J. Behler home.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Kepling-er were in Rockford the past week and visitors of the latter's mother, Mrs.
Charles Beck.

Jefferson City, Mo., April 21—(AP)—The senate has passed a bill authorizing the state to cooperate in the creation of a Missouri-Illinois parkway authority to supervise construction of a scenic parkway across the Ozark region and up the Illinois river valley to Chicago. The vote was 23 to 6.

The proposed parkway, said Senator Clyde C. Cope, author of the measure, would cross the Mississippi river at Alton, Ill., would run through Babler and Meramec state parks and through national forest preserves to the national park service recreational area at the Lake of the Ozarks, with a spur extending to Table Rock national park in southwest Missouri.

Cope said he believed the proposed parkway would be constructed "entirely with federal funds."
If the proposal is approved by Illinois authorities, a six-member commission would be created—three representing each state—with power of acquiring land for parkway purposes and setting up rules and regulations.

The measure now goes to the house.

OFFICER PERPLEXED
Berkeley, Calif., April 21—(AP)— Everytime Police Officer John A.
Ogden tried to circle the traffic bot-tlen, the button moved. Perplexed Ogden investigated. It was a turtle.
He took it to the city pound.

January 1 there were 65,199 WPA workers in Michigan; on February 1, 65,078; on March 1, 64,363; and on April 1, 59,000.
WPA executives attribute this situation to two factors: First, the Michigan state government absorbed the increased relief burden (its relief expenditures jumped $600,000 during the strike period); second, the financially stricken CIO took care of its battling forces.

The auto warfare, however, was a special case, and the conditions that operated to hold down relief demands are rarely found in other strikes.

Red Tape
However, there is another force that mitigates powerfully against the granting of WPA aid to embattled laborites. This is red tape.

WPA does not give direct relief, and it takes several weeks to set in motion a work-relief project.
Except in protracted strikes, the dispute is usually settled before the WPA can get into the picture.

Also, WPA gives local authorities considerable latitude in determining the extent of aid to strikers. This also operates to hold down expenditures.

However, in instances where local officials are deliberately obstructive and a long drawn out labor battle is in progress, the WPA, under union pressure, has stepped in and forced them to act. This was the case in the protracted Remington - Rand strike in New York, where local authorities refused to certify strikers for WPA jobs until ordered by Hopkins to do so.

Merry-Go-Round
When photographers tried to
"shoot" the new maritime commission gathered about a world globe and peering at it, Chairman Joe Kennedy refused to pose. "That's too dramatic," said he. . . . The commission is housed in the identical offices once tenanted by General Hugh Johnson of the ill-fated NRA. . . . By a White House order, army and navy pilots are now barred from taking civilians on cross-country flights in government planes. . . . Oddest item in the recent World Textile conference was a textile operator from Cuba, American-born Dayton
Hedges, whom Cubans call "El Toro," the bull.

CHAPTER XXV
ODDLY Betty looked at Martha.
True, Mart had smiled as she asked, "Isn't three a crowd?" But it had been a peculiar, an almost bitter smile. As if—but Martha couldn't be jealous.

"You must come, really," put in Howison quickly. "Tomorrow—the dinner dance at the Olympic."
"A dinner dance," repeated Betty excitedly. "Martha doesn't it seem ages since you've danced?"

Yes, Martha Brittain thought, it did seem ages. Ages since she'd danced that night at Del Monte with Gerry Neal. And yet she remembered it so clearly, so poignantly. Would she, Martha wondered, ever forget it? Must she go on, now and forever, remembering? Must she think of Gerry Neal whenever someone mentioned certain magic words, like "dance" and "moonlight" and —and "love." Must she think of him at the sound of such words, and then be struck coldly as she was now, with the thought that he was a criminal of the lowest order? That against the soul of the only man she had ever loved was laid murder, and countless other crimes.

Must she thus always be alternately exalted and degraded by the memory of love, or would time erase Gerry Neal from her mind?

THE evening of the next day found Betty Haynes admiring herself in the tall door-mirror of their hotel room. She wore a white sheath of evening gown, and her maize-colored hair was perfect.

"It ought to be," she replied in answer to Martha's compliment to that effect, "I told the hair-dresser—" "I'm going to stay in here two hours, so give me the works!"
She turned from the glass. "You'd better start getting ready, Mart.
The coast guard will be here any moment now."

Mothers and Daughters Banquet
The Mothers and Daughters annual banquet was held at the Brethren church on April 16 at 6:30 P. M. There were 261 served, this being the largest number ever in attendance.

The basement of the church was very beautifully decorated in green and yellow. The lights had gay ruffles hanging from them, and the pillars were wrapped with these colors. The tables had two rows of green crepe paper running the long way with rosettes of yellow now and then. Bouquets of yellow daffodils in beautiful glass baskets also decorated the tables. At each place were nut cups made to look like daffodils.

The supper was served by many of the men of the community, who should be complimented on their good work. With so many to serve at once, they surely did well. The menu was: creamed new potatoes, butter beans, fruit salad, radishes, rolls, coffee, jelly and cake with pineapple and whipped cream. Everyone enjoyed it to the utmost. All during the supper the orchestra, led by Professor Fox, played. Their music was enjoyed by all. The members of the orchestra are: Kenneth Wasson at the piano, Kenneth Hand, saxophone, Lowell Trottnow, accordion, Russell Group, trombone, David Studebaker and Berwell Cluts, trumpets, Harold Zoeller, bass horn, Jack Kelley, guitar, Bob Sterling Jr., drums, and Prof. Neil Fox, saxophone.

The toastmistress was Mrs. William Herbst. Everyone enjoyed all her clever jokes and talk. The Thank Song, sung by all and led by Mrs. Paul Studebaker, was the first on the program. This was followed by a toast to the daughters by Mrs. Ada Peterman. We always enjoy hearing from her. A toast to the mothers was given by Miss George Stelman.

Violin duet, "Stephanie Garvotte," by Civitka, and "America Forever," written by Emil Ascher, was played by Mrs. F. J. Blocher and Mrs. W. L. Moore. We always enjoy hearing from these two talented musicians.

Reading, "Mothers of Today," given by Dotty Hussey. She did exceedingly well.

Vocal duet, "The Dearest Pal," by Fred Asmus. Sung by Mrs. Henry Wendell and Mrs. Beryl Bieghly. They surely sang beautifully together and their number was enjoyed by all.

Vocal solo, "Rock Me to Sleep in the Old Rocking Chair," sung by Miss George Lahman. We always enjoy hearing Georgia sing and her song was one we always like to hear.

Last but not least was a one-act play, "Mushrooms Coming Up." It was very well given and although it was broadcasted, everyone could recognize the players by their voices. The actresses were:

Hostess—Mrs. James Conlon.
Maid—Mrs. Howard Karper.
Guest of Honor—Mrs. Earl Fish.
Dinner Guests:

Mrs. Rudd—Mrs. Cecil Cravens.
Mrs. Carter—Mrs. Earl Buck.
Miss Loftis (nurse)—Mrs. George Spangler.

The hostess, Mrs. Canfield, played by Mrs. Conlon, was entertaining her friend, Miss Todd, played by Mrs. Earl Fish, had invited two other friends for luncheon. Mrs. Rudd (Mrs. Cecil Cravens) and Mrs. Carter (Mrs. Earl Buck).

There is but one delivery of groceries at an army post located in the Philippine Islands. The groceries failed to come. They didn't know what to serve when the maid (Mrs. Howard Karper) suggests mushrooms. They were not sure they were mushrooms so gave the dog some. The dog was run over by the truck but the ladies thought it was the mushrooms that had killed him. They proceeded to get very sick. The nurse (Mrs. George Spangler) takes care of the sick ladies and at the end the maid finally is able to tell of the truck running over the dog. So it ends that they really had mushrooms and not toadstools.

The committee that had charge of the banquet should be complimented for same as it was a huge success. Feeding so many took a lot of preparation and the program committee selected a very good program. It was enjoyed by all.

The committee appointed for next year consists of: Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Lloyd Group and Mrs. Ada Peterman.

It is hoped that the Franklin Grove Woman's club can have a large number present. More particulars will be announced next week.

Digging in the Departments

Georgia Peterman
Another of the newer departments, just taught for the first time this semester, is the commercial geography class. Its main aim is to give the pupil a general knowledge of how supply and demand affect prices, how transportation equalizes supply and demand, and to help the pupil to gain an understanding of the relationship between production and exchange of commodities and natural factors. It builds into the pupil a respect for people of other lands and races, and teaches him to appreciate geography and realize what a tremendous part geography played in the civilization of the world. Also the great interdependence of nations is brought home to the pupil.

FAST TRAIN

NorthWestern Will Augment Service to West Coast

A new fast train—the Forty-Niner—to run between Chicago and San Francisco, was announced Tuesday by the Chicago & North Western, Union Pacific, and Southern Pacific railroads. Estimated the 2,261 mile trip will be made in forty-nine hours and west-bound it will be made in fifty hours and forty-two minutes. It will go into service about June 15.

The Forty-Niner will consist of eight Pullman cars, partially streamlined, and will be drawn by a steam locomotive. The last two cars will consist of the streamlined, articulated unit which the Pullman company has had in service on railroads throughout the country for experimental purposes.

Will Have Bedroom Car
The forward car of the articulated unit is a sixteen bedroom car, with seven bedrooms upstairs and nine at the regular level. These bedrooms have transverse beds, which form sofas by day. The rear car is the observation section.

Five round trips will be made each month. All stops made by the City of San Francisco will be made by the new train. The schedule will be staggered with that of the City of San Francisco in order to give more frequent fast service.

Leaving Chicago at 10:10 a. m. on a Monday, for example, the Forty-Niner will arrive in San Francisco at 10:52 a. m., Pacific time, on Wednesday. The monthly schedule calls for departure from San Francisco on the 5th, 11th, 17th, 23d, and 29th of each month and departure from Chicago will be on the 2d, 8th, 14th, and 20th, and 26th of each month.

Extra Fare to Be Charged
The Forty-Niner will be a deluxe type train and an extra charge of $10 will be made for tickets on it. Officials of the North Western said yesterday the City of San Francisco has been so popular that reservations have been made on it as far in advance as December. This does not mean all space has been sold, there being plenty of accommodation available for the interim.

The three railroads also announced that the giant new Diesel-electric powered City of San Francisco, now being constructed at the Pullman works, will be placed in service early next autumn.

You get brakes that stop with tremendous power—yet work at the gentlest of toe pressure.

You get a car that's easy to steer, easy to park. Yet the way it hugs the road and cradles you over rough spots will make you think of great big cars, with great big price tags on them.
